

Meet the Previous NEDA/AED Young Investigator Grant Recipients and learn more about their exciting contributions to the field.

Nicole Barbarich-Marsteller, PhD

Columbia University, New York

Laureate Young Investigators' Grant for $20K

Research: "Serotonergic dysfunction in activity-based anorexia: Treatment implications"

Download a PDF with more information.

Scott Engel, PhD

Neuropsychiatric Research Institute, North Dakota

Laureate Young Investigators' Grant for $20K

Research: "Antecedents of Eating Behaviors in Binge Eating Disorder"

Download a PDF with more information.

The Tampa Bay Eating Disorders Task Force Award - $10K

"An evaluation of an Internet-based, parent-focused early intervention of bulimia nervosa in adolescents"

Angela Celio Doyle, PhD

University of Chicago, Illinois

Download a PDF with more information.

Laureate Young Investigators' Grant - $10K

"Survey of Psychotherapy Providers for Individuals with Eating Disorders"

Kristin von Ranson, PhD, CPsych

University of Calgary, Canada

Download a PDF with more information.

Joan Wismer Research Grant - $10K

“A Comparison of Cognitive-Behavioral Psychotherapy and Supportive Psychotherapy in Adolescents with Bulimia Nervosa”

Lisa Kotler, MD

Columbia University, New York

Download a PDF with more information.

Charron Family Research Grant - $10K

“Personality Based Family Dynamics Among Eating Disordered Subjects, Siblings, and Parents: A Controlled Study with TCI”

Federico Amianto, MD

Torino University School of Medicine, Italy

Download a PDF with more information.

