Swept

10 min., 2007 narrative

Based on the experience of its writers, "Swept" chronicles a brother visiting his sister while she is in inpatient treatment. The film explores the impact of eating disorders on relationships and the family and is being used as a therapy tool in group and family settings as a springboard for communication, understanding, and healing. Funded by Linden Oaks Hospital at Edward in Naperville, IL. www.sweptfilms.com

Beauty Mark

51 min., 2008 documentary

After collapsing from chronic fatigue and anorexia, former champion tri-athlete Diane Israel embarks on an inspirational journey to understand and overcome her obsessive drive for perfection. "This is clearly one of the best films, if not the best, that I have seen on the topic." Ron A. Thompson, Author of Helping Athletes with Eating Disorders.
